As we enter an era of profound reform in our thinking and the way we envision our civilisation, Global Progress clearly positions itself as a pioneer among Non-Governmental Organisations, driven by what has never been attempted before, going where others do not go or cannot go, in order to co-create a complete societal model based on radically different foundations from those experienced throughout history, including and by way of example:

- New technologies :
  - Sustainability versus planned obsolescence.
  - Revolutionary in the fields of health, energy, construction... as an example: generating electricity using Tesla tower-like technology that harnesses energy from the vacuum, unlimited in the quantum sense, and wirelessly redistributes it, breaking away from environmentally damaging, costly, and harmful exploitation for all living beings.
  - At our fingertips: these technologies exist but have never been adopted or used by industries or governments, both in civil and military domains.
- New economy:
  - Blue Night Economy of the E42 system, versus the market economy and its fluctuations, which relies on the law of supply and demand, built on exponentially increasing debt since its creation.
  - Getting out of the toxic speculation logic that only serves the ultra-billionaires.
  - Repositioning money as a mere tool for perpetual exchange, rather than an instrument of “accumulated” and “regulated” power for the benefit of a few.
- New sense of Life:
  - Leaving behind the logic of “working to earn a living” to direct its resources and abilities towards “building your own life” based on personal aspirations.
  - Cultivating autonomy while benefiting from the contributions of all, versus enduring a standardised societal model imposed by a few.
  - Positioning self-esteem, the significance of your own place in society, and your own fulfilment as a new “Art of life”.

To this end, our flagship project is the establishment of a New City, “Jandraline”, an experimental model, somewhat like a show home, that will allow you to assess its relevance, its efficiency, and its merits for the benefit of everyone, including yours.
